- Assist in brainstorming and planning new initiatives for the committee. We appreciate enthusiasm and initiative.
- Collaborate with the committee and leadership to plan the annual Domestic Violence Awareness webinar to be held in October. Planning begins in the spring.

- Help facilitate keeping communications up to date (e.g. helping with website updates, social media, etc.) with the help of the committee and other leaders.
- Be communicative, responsible, and passionate about our cause.

Expected time commitment: 1-3 hr/week.

Reproductive Health Training | July 29th and offered monthly until December 2025

In the current climate, conversations around reproductive health are more complex and more important than ever. Unfortunately, this isn't something we often get to learn about in the classroom. That's why AMWA is offering a virtual training tomorrow as part of the Reproductive Health Coalition, a network working to protect access to reproductive care. This session will give you tips for having more empathic conversations around reproductive care. Whether you're a medical student, premedical student, or simply care about reproductive justice—this training will help you learn about patient-centered care!

On demand training focuses on finding common ground, even when views on reproductive care differ. You can take this before or after the live session.

Deema graduated from Rice University in 2024 with a major in Visual and Dramatic Arts and a concentration in pre-medical studies, and she is now pursuing a Post-Baccalaureate Certificate in Biomedical Sciences & Health Equity at Baylor College of Medicine. She currently works as a Behavior Technician and volunteers at both Texas Children's Hospital and The Beacon, a non-profit organization with a mission of providing essential services to the homeless. Aside from medical extracurriculars, Deema was heavily involved in merchandise design and social media marketing in her undergrad — she was both a barista and the Graphics & Marketing Manager at Rice Coffeehouse! In her free time, she loves playing word games — NYT crossword, anyone? — hanging out with her orange tabby, Mishmish, and finding the next great matcha in Houston. Her personal experiences and involvement in advocacy, both in surrounding organizations and through her post-bacc studies, have instilled in her a strong passion for service. As Advocacy Chair, she looks forward to highlighting the challenges faced by marginalized groups and equipping AMWA members with tools to serve others effectively.

Fun Fact: Deema was a barista all throughout undergrad but absolutely hate the taste of coffee -- I'm more of a tea and matcha person.
